TEN KILLED AND SIXTEEN INJURED

Passenger Train Crashes Into a Stock Train.

PLOWS THROUGH CABOOSE

Engine Literally Tears It to Pieces and Sets Fire to the Debris—Four Cars in Front of the Caboose Tele-scoped—Sixteen Stockmen Were Asleep in the Caboose When the Accident Occurred.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Ten men were killed and sixteen probably fatally injured when a train southbound for Cincinnati on the Pennsylvania railroad crashed into the caboose of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul cattle train bound for the stock yards.

Sixteen men were in the caboose of the stock train when the passenger train crashed into it in the railroad yards a few blocks from the downtown station. The engine plowed through the caboose, literally tearing it to shreds and setting fire to the debris.

Six bodies were recovered within a few minutes after the crash while the flames were eating up the splintered bits of the demolished car. Sixteen injured were dragged from the burning pyre of ruin.

The passenger train, known as the Cincinnati Special of the Panhandle route of the Pennsylvania, left the union depot soon after midnight. No signals had been given, so far as could be learned, that any other train was on the tracks. The passenger train increased its speed and when at Twelfth street the engineer saw the rear lights of the freight ahead it was too late to avert a collision. He used the air brakes and reversed his engine, but crashed into the caboose filled with sleeping stockmen with tremendous momentum.

The caboose was cut into pieces and four cars in front of it were telescoped.

Snatched From Burning Debris.

When the crash occurred screams of the injured and the cries of cattle in the stock cars attracted crowds of rescuers to the scene and immediately many men were snatched from the burning ruin. The fire department extinguished the flames.

The bodies of six dead were found by that time. That at least four others had been pinned under the burning pile of debris was discernable to the rescuers. Many cattle were slaughtered.

The first body to be identified was that of Charles Bond of Milwaukee, Wis., conductor of the freight train. In his pockets was the list of names of the stockmen in the demolished caboose. The list has not been found.

The engineer and firemen of the passenger train are reported to have been but slightly injured. The conductor of the passenger train also was only slightly hurt.

When the engine struck the freight caboose it threw it across the track and crashed through the middle, pinning the bodies of the victims into the timbers of the stock car ahead.

Six of the injured are Peter Johnson, Egeland, N. D., right arm broken, skull fractured; Frank Hackett, Chicago; Edwin S. Arman, Chicago; John A. Dixon, New York; H. F. Black, Dayton, O.; H. D. Maize, Springfield, O.

All the injured were rushed to hospitals, in police ambulances.

The second of the dead to be identified was H. H. Potter, Mandan, N. D., and the third was William Stephens, Livingston, Mont.

HEARING IN MAYBRAY CASE

Shows He May Have to Answer Several Other Indictments.

Omaha, Sept. 28.—That J. C. Maybray, indicted in Council Bluffs last Friday for alleged fraudulent use of the United States mails, will have several other indictments to answer in the event of the government being successful in its efforts was made evident shortly after a federal grand jury in this city began hearing evidence in the case. Inspector Swenson intimated that similar actions will be brought in other districts and expects to present evidence to federal grand juries in Little Rock, New Orleans, St. Louis, Denver and Seattle.

The hearing of evidence against Maybray began in this city Monday and the grand jury is expected to make its report by the end of the present week. It is believed, however, that his first trial will occur at Council Bluffs, on the indictment returned in that city last week.

SEES MINERS WORK BIG DRILL

President Taft Visits a Copper Mine at Butte.

ENJOYED EXPERIENCE GREATLY

Chief Executive Says He Would Not Have Missed It for the World—His First Visit to the Montana Copper District—Takes Thrilling Automobile Ride Over the Mountains. Talks at State Fair Grounds.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 28.—Attired in a linen duster, an old black slouch hat and swinging an electric lantern at his side, President Taft was locked in a narrow iron cage and dropped 1,200 feet through midnight blackness into the depths of the famous old Leonard copper mine at Butte. He had the rare experience of seeing miners at work with a giant drill in a vein of high grade ore that sparkled green with its wealth of mineral.

When he had ascended with a whiz, after an hour under ground, the president, blinking in the glare of the noon-day sun, was cheered to the echo by the crowd of curious people gathered at the hoist. He declared enthusiastically:

"I would not have missed it for the world."

It was the president's first visit to the Montana copper district and between the smelters at Anaconda and the mines at Butte he had a series of interesting experiences. Not the least of these was a thrilling automobile ride over the mountains from Butte to the mouth of the Leonard mine. The grades were steep and winding, but the chauffeurs were experienced men and while there was apparently no threat of danger at any stage of the trip, there was a sigh of relief when Mr. Taft had once more been placed safely aboard the Mayflower for the run to Helena.

Arriving here he went directly to the state fair grounds, where, after viewing a portion of the exhibits, he made an open air address and witnessed a race of cowboys. Returning to the city Mr. Taft reviewed a parade of school children.

Leaving here, he headed direct for Spokane, where he is expected to deliver his formal speech on the subject which holds supreme interest to all the West—the conservation of the natural resources and the reclamation of arid land.

President Taft Lame:

President Taft walked with a limp when he first got off the train at Anaconda, the result of a sprained tendon in his right foot. The sprain occurred at Beverly, but he suffered little inconvenience from it until Monday, when his foot was considerably swollen. There is nothing serious about the sprain and Mr. Taft did not let it interfere in any way with his plans.

The president made a flying trip through the Washoe smelter of the Amalgamated Copper company at Anaconda, then proceeded into the city and after a brief address took the train for Butte. The crowds which greeted him on the streets there were the largest he had seen since leaving Chicago.

The police had their hands full in opening a way for the automobile procession and after the president's car had passed the crowd swarmed in its wake. Speaking at the courthouse, the president looked out upon a mass of humanity that blocked the square and spread far down the converging streets. He made a decided hit with the great throng when he told of the wonderful impression the country was making upon him and ending by saying:

"I am like the old Dutchman who said: 'The more you live the more you find, by golly.'"

When the president's special train pulled into Helena a reception committee composed of 400 citizens from all parts of Montana greeted Mr. Taft. He was driven in an automobile directly to the fair grounds, where the state fair is in progress. Fully 20,000 people gathered in and about the grounds to see and hear him.

He was given an enthusiastic welcome as he mounted the speakers' stand where two hours before James J. Hill had delivered an address. Mr. Taft was introduced by Governor Norris, who welcomed him to Montana's capital in the name of the people.

Mr. Taft spoke for about twenty minutes, expressing his admiration of what he had seen since entering the state and thanking the audience for the kindly and enthusiastic welcome he had received.

At the conclusion of his speech he witnessed a cowboy race and was then driven down to the city, where he reviewed the school children who had been assembled on the lawn in front of the federal building. He was then driven to his train and left for Spokane.

Negro Escapes From Posse. Statesboro, Ga., Sept. 28.—After having been captured by the brave daughter of a farmer eight miles from Statesboro during the late hours of the night after he had broken into her room, Otis Hendricks, a burly negro, later escaped from the men in whose custody he was placed and is at large.

BENCH WARRANTS ISSUED

But They Will Be Sealed Until Investigation Is Completed.

New York, Sept. 28.—After having investigated the affairs of F. Augustus Heinze's United Copper company, as well as charges of rebating against several important transatlantic steamship lines and railroads, the federal grand jury returned several sealed indictments which were handed into the criminal branch of the United States circuit court.

While it is understood that bench warrants were issued on the indictments they will be kept under seal until the grand jury investigation of the steamship and railroad cases is completed.

Boy Killed by Train.

Fort Dodge, Ia., Sept. 28.—Carl Showers, eighteen years old, was ground under the wheels of a Chicago Great Western train and portions of his body were carried a mile by passenger train No. 322. The lad tried to jump from the moving train near his farm home after spending a day in Fort Dodge.

THREE SCORE ARE INJURED

Explosion Wrecks a Building in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Sept. 28.—The Ferguson block, an eight-story office building on Fourth avenue in the heart of Pittsburg's financial and business district, was wrecked by an explosion. At least sixty persons were injured, about half that number being young women stenographers in the building, who were either injured by the explosion directly or hurt in escaping from the building.

The explosion took place in the offices of the Columbia Exchange Film company, when a spark ignited some films in a vault which was filled with explosives. An attaché slammed the door shut and managed to get all out of the office before the great safe built into the wall exploded. The air concussion swept out into the light wall on which all the offices of the building face, and every office in the building was wrecked and one of the outer walls so badly damaged that it is being taken down.

The injury done by flying glass was fearful and scores were hurt in the rush for elevators. Three elevator boys did heroic service, though badly hurt, by sticking to their cars and taking the injured young women from the building.

Kills Wife and Himself.

Pottstown, Pa., Sept. 28.—After a quarrel with his wife Samuel Troxell, aged thirty-five, of Olney, Pa., killed her and himself. Two small children of the couple witnessed the double tragedy.

STRIKERS TAKE NO ACTION

Prospects of Settling Trouble in Omaha Appear Remote.

Omaha, Sept. 28.—The chances of settling the strike of street car men in this city appear remote, although it was believed there was a probability of the strike being ended before Monday night. President Wattles at Sunday's conference with municipal officials of Omaha and adjacent cities through which the company's lines run, intimated on what basis he would re-employ the strikers, but this proposition was not laid before the union officials nor the men individually, and for that reason no action was taken by the striking employees.

ELECTION RETURNS DEFECTIVE

Half Mill Tax Levied to Purchase Site and Erect a Public

The regular adjourned meeting of the city council was much protracted Monday evening by the failure of the clerks and judges of election in the various wards to make proper returns of the results of the special election Tuesday, Sept. 21. As a result it was necessary to send to the Second, Third and Fourth wards for judge and clerk from each to certify the returns.

When the council was called to order all the members except Alderman Gardner were present.

President Twohey stated the object of the adjourned meeting, which was to canvass the votes of the special election and take such action as was necessary to start the sale of bonds. There being no returns outside the ballot box from the Second, Third and Fourth wards, the ballot boxes were brought into the council chamber and Alderman Henning was ordered by President Twohey to break the seals which contained the keys to the ballot boxes and open them, which was done. No certificates of the votes were found in the boxes and special messengers were sent to the various wards to get a clerk and a judge of election from each ward to make out the the certificates as required by law.

While the messengers were absent the council proceeded to the consideration of other matters, the first being a report from the finance committee of the estimated expenditures and revenues for the quarter commencing October 1st. The committee estimated the receipts of the city for that period to be $5,228.00 and the expenditures to be $5,265.00. The report included nothing for street work during these months, as there was probably none to be done during that time. The report was on motion accepted and placed on file.

Two petitions from residents and property owners on North Ninth street asking for the curbing of that street and the placing of catch basins and sewer connections, were received and on motion were referred to the street committee.

A communication from Mrs. L. D. Mattson, asking the city to order in cement walk in front of her property on North Second street and assess it against the same, was on motion referred to the street committee.

A petition signed by A. G. Schnell, John Wise and Fred Kimball, asking that a sidewalk be ordered constructed along the west side of blocks 239 and 269, on South Sixth street, was on motion referred to the street committee.

A petition from residents of North Fifth street, which had been presented to the council some months ago, and which the clerk had then been instructed to lay before the city council when the revolving fund was established, was brought up. The petition requested that curbing be ordered put in throughout the entire second ward and that the width of North Fifth street be fixed at forty feet. The petition was on motion referred to the street committee.

A similar petition from residents on North Broadway, asking that the street be paved and curbed from Kingwood street to Fir street, was laid before the council by City Clerk Roderick and was also referred to the street committee.

Alderman Dieckhaus moved that the city attorney be instructed to draw a resolution levying a tax of one-half mill to create a fund for the purchase of a site and the erection of a public building for the city. City Attorney Ryan prepared the necessary resolution and it was presented to the council, Alderman Dieckhaus moving its passage. It was passed, all voting aye on roll call.

The building permit granted A. D. Polk and M. T. Dunn by the building inspector, for repairing the wooden structure on the Cale corner, was on motion approved by the city council.

A resident on East Oak street appeared before the council to register a kick on the curbing, stating that it crumbled and that it was one part cement to four parts sand, as per the contract, it would harden in 24 hours. He stated that he and others had taken small samples of the cement and sand and mixed them and that they had hardened in that length of time. J. F. Vaughn, the contractor, stated that this was true of a small amount of cement when placed in a dry place, but that a large body, when imbedded in the earth, hardened slowly and would not get to its best for months. He stated that the same kick was made last year on South Broadway and the year before on South Sixth street but that both curbs were perfectly satisfactory after they had hardened thoroughly. Alderman Dieckhaus corroborated his statement regarding the curb on South Broadway. Engineer Whiteley stated that the cement and sand were put together automatically by the machine used and it was, he thought, done accurately. President Twohey informed the objectors that Mr. Vaughn and the city engineer were under bond and that if after a year the curb was not all right, Mr. Vaughn would have to replace it.

The vote of the special election was then canvassed with the result stated in The Dispatch the day following the election—664 for and 93 against the bond issue. The council proceeded to sign up the certificate of the canvass, etc., after which it took up a resolution ordering the sale of the bonds. The resolution fixed the denomination of 57 of the bonds at $1,000 each and one at $500. $5,000 will fall due on the 1st day of November, 1919, and $5,000 each year to 1928, inclusive, and $7,500 on the 1st of November, 1929. The bonds will be sold at public sale on October 18th. The bidders must deposit a certified check on a local bank for five percent of their bids and must take the bonds within thirty days of the date of sale. The resolution was passed, all voting aye on roll call, and the city clerk and city attorney were directed to prepare proper notices for publication. The council then adjourned.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. BUYING WHEAT AT MILL

George Fricker is Buying Wheat at Brainerd Mills That Farmers
May Have a Market

After the burning of the Monarch elevator last week there was no one in the city buying grain and several loads of wheat brought to Brainerd Friday were hauled home. In order that the farmers who are tributary to the city might have a cash market for their wheat, some of the local business men have made arrangements to have George Fricker buy wheat at the Brainerd Roller mills. He will pay the highest market price for wheat at all times.

ROSCOE MARSHAL WAS A SMOOTH ONE

MARSHALL GOES ON CRUTCHES

Was Arranged in Municipal Court This Afternoon and Hearing Set for Wednesday

Roscoe Marshall is about as smooth a young guy as they make. He is a cripple, or pretends to be, and is walking on crutches, but that did not hinder him committing two robberies.

He was traveling toward Duluth with a companion named Oscar Andersen, and they stopped off Saturday afternoon and evening at Brainerd. While here Marshall, it is alleged, touched his partner for $60. He also made the acquaintance of W. F. Holst.

While they fraternized, Marshall succeeded in nipping Mr. Holst's time piece. Anderson accompanied Marshall to Carlton and made complaint to the officers there that he had been relieved of his roll by Marshall. The officers locked Marshall up and told Anderson to come back to Brainerd and swear out a complaint. This Anderson did, bringing a letter from Sheriff Lee, of Carlton county. A warrant was issued for Marshall, as John Doe, and Deputy Sheriff Theorin went to Carlton yesterday afternoon and returned here with him today.

When he got to Carlton, Mr. Theorin found Mr. Holst's watch in the hands of the sheriff, it having been taken from Marshall by the officers. Mr. Holst also swore out a complaint against Marshall and he was arranged on both charges this afternoon and his preliminary examination set for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock on both charges.

The time in court while waiting for the arrival of the municipal judge, was enlivened by the "retort courtois" between Anderson and Marshall, Anderson accusing Marshall of trying to rob a third man in a saloon in this city that night. Marshall is in jail in default of bail.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Recital a Treat

On Saturday evening a number of Brainerd's music loving people were invited to the Park opera house to attend a dress rehearsal of the "Grand English Opera Singers and Symphony Orchestra." The company had been rehearsing in the opera house here for a week or more. They will tour western Canada under the management of C. P. Walker, manager of the Red River theatre circuit, which includes the Brainerd opera house. The company consists of eight people: Miss Juanita Rush, prima donna; Mrs. Rose Manning Murphy, contralto; Charles Wesley Picquet, tenor; and manager; Harry Mamilton, bass-cantante; Glen Robert Kershner, flute; Leo Ketchum, cello; Mme. Auge, violinist. The invited guests Saturday night were more than pleased with the rendition of the program. The members of the company are all artists of a high order and so uniformly good were the renditions that individual mention would be unfair and space does not permit a special mention of each number. Those present urged Manager Hall to secure the company for a public concert here at the close of their Canadian tour and he will endeavor to do so.

BRAINERD GIRL MARRIED

Miss Rose Arnold, Formerly of Brainerd, Wedded in Seattle to Capt.
Harry W. Powell

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, of Sept. 22d, contains the following announcement of the marriage of Miss Rose Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Arnold, of East Brainerd, and a sister of Mrs. E. O. Webb, to Capt. Harry W. Powell, of Seattle. Miss Arnold's many friends in Brainerd will join The Dispatch in extending heartiest congratulations. The account of the marriage in the Post-Intelligencer is as follows:

"Miss Rose M. Arnold, formerly of Brainerd, Minn., and Capt. Harry W. Powell, inspector in the city department of health and sanitation, were married yesterday afternoon at the residence of Rev. J. D. O. Powers, of the Boylston Ave. Unitarian church. Mr. and Mrs. Powell left last night to spend a fortnight in British Columbia before making their homes in this city.

"Miss Arnold has taught in the city public schools for several years and has many friends in Seattle. She was for several years in charge of the eighth grade of the Franklin school.

"Capt. Powell, who is president of the newly organized Seattle school of sanitary science, was for many years a soldier of fortune in British colonial possessions and in South America and the Orient. He served for two campaigns as an officer of the British army and left that service to join the forces of Cecil Rhodes in his sensational South African campaign. After brilliant service with Rhodes, he went to South America, took part in an insurrection, and tiring of a peaceable life, entered the United States army at the time of the Spanish-American war. He served two years in the Philippines and under Gen. Chaffee accompanied the allied forces in China during the Boxer troubles.

"Capt. Powell has been with the department of health and sanitation since its reorganization by Dr. J. E. Crichton."

TESTED THE MACHINE

Chairman Paine, of the Street Committee, Tested Vaughn's Cement Machine This Forenoon

Owing to the complaint made at the city council meeting Monday night that the curb put in by Mr. Vaughn was not standard strength, C. H. Paine today tested the accuracy of the automatic measuring cement mixer used by Mr. Vaughn. Mr. Paine stated to a representative of The Dispatch that the test showed that the machine put in a little over one part of cement to four parts of sand and that it proved conclusively that the curb was up to the specifications. He was fully satisfied that the cement curb would be all right if people keep off from it until it had time to harden.

Y. M. C. A. WORK NEEDED

Governor Eberhart Tells of the Work Necessary to Interest Young Men in Religion

The remarks of Governor Eberhart at Bethany Lutheran church in Minneapolis last Sunday, are a real indication of the need of the work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing, and are especially interesting and pertinent in view of the campaign for membership which the local association has just started. Governor Eberhart, after paying a tribute to the late Governor Johnson said:

"The only way to keep young men and women in the church is to entertain them and get them interested in church organizations and social life," said Governor Eberhart, continuing with his subject:

"The organization of study classes and social clubs will keep the young people interested in the church and they will attend the services on Sunday because they are interested and not because they are made to attend. That is the only way to keep the young men.

"Every year more boys are leaving the country and coming to the cities.

If the country churches will do something to keep the young men interested in their lives on the farms, they would stay there. Of course, there are better chances for some in the city, but what is the country to do if all the farmers move into the cities? The Bible is being read more every year and professional and business men are taking more interest in the church work. The church must strive to keep the young men and women in, and they can hardly do this without offering something besides religion."

PEARY CONFERS WITH HUBBARD

Submits Data on Controversy With Dr. Cook.

STATEMENT NOT YET READY

But Naval Officer Soon Will Issue One to Support His Contention That His Rival Did Not Reach the North Pole.

Dr. Cook Admits That Some Pictures Illustrating His Story Are Old and Blames Newspaper for Trying to Deceive the Public.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 28.—Commander Peary, accompanied by his wife, reached here from Portland and within half an hour was in conference with General Thomas H. Hubbard, president of the Peary Arctic club, concerning the statement which soon will be made public by Peary to support his contention that Dr. Cook did not reach the pole.

"There is nothing to say just now," said General Hubbard, "Commander Peary is here and we are looking over the data he has on the Cook controversy, but there is no statement to be made at this time."

"No date has been set for the meeting of the officers of the Peary Arctic club, and I shall not determine that until my return to New York next week."

After the conference Commander Peary probably will return to Eagle Island. It is generally believed that he and General Hubbard will go to New York together.

From what can be learned of the conference, Peary went over every phase of his alleged evidence against Dr. Cook, dating from the time the Brooklyn explorer began his preparations to go north, more than two

GENERAL THOMAS H. HUBBARD.
[President of the Arctic club.] years ago, and until after Peary's interviews with Dr. Cook's Eskimos at Etah. General Hubbard has been arranging this material in order as personal counsel for Peary.

There was a large crowd at the steambot landing, notwithstanding the inclement weather, to give Commander Peary and his wife a hearty welcome.

During the trip to Bar Harbor, Peary spoke frequently of Harry Whitney.

"There might have been some strange reasons why Whitney did not go back to Etah in the Jeanie for Dr.
Cook's stuff," he said. "I cannot understand how any one could let such records get out of his hands. I would not give my records to my dearest relative. I say again, I don't see how Cook could have turned his stuff over to Whitney or anybody else. I secured my instruments in a bag and the flag which I took to the pole I sewed in my clothes and I wore it until I reached Battle Harbor."

"I kept my records under watch day and night and I was prepared in case the Roosevelt was crushed in the ice, to throw them overboard so that they could float in their cases. Can you imagine me giving up those records to a perfect stranger?"

"Harry Whitney did not tell me what was in Dr. Cook's stuff except six fox skins, a narwhal horn and some other trophies. I could not see why I should have carried the stuff when Cook could have taken it. If Dr. Cook's stuff was of such importance why didn't Whitney go back in the Jeanie and get it?"

ADMITS PICTURES ARE OLD

Dr. Cook Blames a Newspaper for Trying to Deceive the Public.

New York, Sept. 28.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, in a lecture under the auspices of the Arctic Club of America at Carnegie hall, added no essential facts to his narrative of the discovery of the North pole, but supplied added circumstances to those passages which have been previously criticised for their lack of detail.

"Harry Whitney," he said, "asked me to entrust to him as a special favor the flag that I planted at the North pole. He expected, then, an American ship to call for him and we both argued that his journey would be shorter and smoother by water than the distance over land and ice that still remained for me before I could reach civilization. For that reason I added to the flag my instruments and certain of my records."

Dr. Cook laid further emphasis on the ample outfit he says he took with him and insisted that the sledges, clothes and boots made by the natives at Annatok were better than any that could have been taken to the north from civilization. On the first stages of his journey, he said, he took ten Eskimos with him and might have had twenty for the asking. Eight of these turned back, reserving Etukishuk and Ahweelah, with twenty-six dogs and two sledges for the last dash.

The collapsible canoe which was not mentioned in his first narrative and appeared subsequently in the lecture given at Copenhagen, was described in full. The frame, Dr. Cook said, formed part of one of the sledges and the canvas covering did duty for a tent when not in use on the water.

The lantern slides with which the lecture was illustrated, Dr. Cook was careful to explain, were taken some of them by John R. Bradley, his backer, in the early stage of the journey and still others on previous expeditions, but all the northernmost pictures were of his own taking. They added conviction to his descriptions of the surprising smoothness of the ice. His first sight of the sun in April—a date which some astronomers have said should have been earlier—he explained was delayed by the mists which obscured the horizon at that time for almost a week.

In giving credit to those explorers who have preceded him, Dr. Cook omitted the name of Commander Peary, which on previous occasions he has always included.

Dr. Cook admitted the truth of charges made in a Brooklyn paper that pictures illustrating his story are made from photographs taken in 1901, and blamed a newspaper for attempting to deceive the public.

PANIC IN A POLISH PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

Fourteen Children Hurt, One of Them Fatally.

New York, Sept. 28.—Terrified by Black Hand stories, 1,000 children stampeded in a Polish parochial school in Jersey City when fireworks were set off in the street, and made a mad rush for the doors. Fourteen were crushed, one so seriously that death probably will result. The fatally injured child is Marianna Zelackshky, seven years old. The others comprise five girls and eight boys, all ranging from seven to ten years of age. All are in hospitals and it is believed all will recover.

The schoolhouse, a three-story brick building, is a stone's throw from an Italian church, which had obtained a permit to set off fireworks during a church celebration. A rumor got out last week among the children in the Jersey City schools that threats had been made to blow up the schools with dynamite. The children of St.
Anthony's school have been particularly nervous about it and when the bombs went off suddenly they ran shrieking from their recitation rooms into the halls and down the stairways.

There are two street doorways, but one of them was closed. At the closed entrance there occurred a disastrous jam. Here several of the smaller children were trampled into unconsciousness, while others ran back into the building and sprang through open windows fifteen feet to an arway.

RIZZO MAKES CONFESSION

Admits Kidnapping Children and Killing Two of Them.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The mystery which for many days surrounded the kidnapping of three little Italian children and the murder of two of them in the Eagle street culvert two weeks ago last Sunday night, was solved beyond doubt, the police say, when they secured a full confession from Theodore Rizzo, who has been held as a suspect for more than a week.

For thirty-six hours, according to the police, they had been endeavoring to secure an admission from Rizzo and finally he told the story in all its harrowing details. Rizzo, it is claimed, assaulted the two little girls, but when they threatened to tell their fathers he shot them, and the little boy as well, leaving all three for dead.

Following the alleged confession a charge of murder in the first degree was made against Rizzo. He was arraigned before Justice O'Connor and when the latter read the charge against him, Rizzo collapsed. Examination was then waived and Rizzo was remanded to jail.

THE SLAYER OF MARAT

Charlotte Corday and the Act That Made Her Famous.

HER PLANS FOR THE MURDER

The Way They Were Worked Out and How They Were Put Into Execution.
Her Own Tragic End and the Final Act of the Brutal Headsman.

Among the instances of fanatic zeal for country and people the act of Charlotte Corday, who was born at St. Saurin, France, July 27, 1768, and who was beheaded at Paris July 17, 1793, stands out in tragic force.

Her childhood and early youth were full of privation, although she was of a noble family. She was educated at a convent in Caen and then went to live with an aunt in the same old town of Normandy.

She had a serene and lofty beauty, was tall and graceful, and her manner was full of dignity.

She spent all her leisure in reading, and her books were always those that related to heroism and devotion to country. When the revolution broke upon France, Charlotte eagerly took up the reading of politics and public questions. When the Girondists were obliged to fly from Paris they went to Caen and began to hold meetings and form plans for future operations in Paris.

The Girondists were the true republicans and got their name from Gironde, as it was the deputies from the Republican party in the national assembly. The massacres had terrified them, and they had tried to stop the violent measures in the reign of terror.

Charlotte felt a very mad passion of enthusiasm as she listened to the fiery eloquence of these men who denounced Marat. Danton and Robespierre escaped much of the censure due for their share in the frightful work of cruelty and death. It was upon Marat that the Girondists poured their eloquence, for it was he who had pursued and ordered the death of their leaders in Paris. In the depths of her heart a purpose was formed to save her people from this monster and at any cost to herself.

Into Charlotte's life a tender and respectful love had come to add its influence in these days of strange tumult and calm purpose. She and a young man named Franquin had been writing each other, and she had given him her portrait and told him that he might at least love that. When this lover marched away to Paris with the Giron-dists and the neighboring volunteers, she bade him a calm farewell, for she knew she was going to save him.

After her execution Franquin went home to his native village in Normandy. In the tender care of his mother he gradually failed, for his heart was broken the day his love perished.
When he came to die he requested that Charlotte's portrait and letters be buried with him, and his grave holds them sacredly.

Charlotte began to prepare for her journey to Paris and the tragedy she had planned. Every effort was made to hide the appearance of a concealed purpose. When she arrived at Paris she at once set about her plans to kill Marat. As a preparation she went to one of the shops of the Palais Royal and bought a dagger shaped knife, paying for it 60 cents. This she hid in the folds of her dress. Her plan had been to kill Marat in the very convention, where she thought the deed would be avenged by killing her on the spot.

But Marat no longer went to the convention. He was ill with a disease that was slowly killing him, and his body was in a state of disorder and irruption that gave him an agony of suffering. He was only comfortable when in the warm water of his bath. He lived on the first floor of a house in the Rue des Cordeliers, and connected with his home were all the affairs of his journalistic work and from here all his pamphlets and journals were sent out.

After writing two letters asking for an interview, in which she would give him some important news about suspected persons, she got no reply. Then she took her way to the house, insisted that she must see him, and when for-bidden entrance by Marat's wife she still urged the importance of her errand. Marat heard the sound of their voices and shouted out for a reason of the noise that bothered him. When told that it was the woman who had twice written him he bade her come in.
The wife, against her will, let her pass.

Marat was in his bath, wrapped in an ink stained sheet, and was writing on a board laid across the bath. Asking her errand, he took down all the details she gave him. When he had the name of each Girondist who was at work in Caen he told her that in a week they would be brought to the guillotine. Then as she stood beside the bath she plunged the knife into his heart, and he died with a cry to his wife to come to him.

Just before her execution she wrote to the Girondists at Caen that she anticipated happiness "with Brutus in the Elysian fields" after her death, and she also wrote tender and loving farewell letters to her relatives and friends.

When she had suffered death the executioner lifted up her head by the hair and struck it a brutal blow with his fist. Just at that moment a gleam of the sun so fell upon it that there was the effect of a blush upon the dead face.—Boston Globe.

Real Sea Serpents.
In New Caledonia sea serpents are frequently seen and sometimes captured. They are curious creatures, the head being very small and scarcely distinguishable from the body and the tail being formed like an oar. In length they are generally between three and four feet. In the jaw there are tiny glands containing poison, but as the mouth is very small it is difficult for them to bite, and the natives handle them fearlessly. M. Kernogant, a European traveler, witnessed an experiment at Noumea which shows under certain conditions the sea serpent can do deadly work. A rat was caught in a trap, and its tongue was grasped by a pair of pinchers and placed in the mouth of a sea serpent. The serpent immediately bit it, and the rat died in four minutes.

Prince Rupert, the proposed western terminus of the new Canadian line, the Grand Trunk Pacific, will be made to order city almost. It faces a fine natural harbor, yet a few years ago the land was held at a nominal price. Since the decision of the railroad was made known more than a million dollars' worth of lots have been sold there at auction.

And the difference shows in the baking.

pert bakers test it at the mills constantly. They guarantee it

Neuralgia
In the Face

Long standing case completely cured by DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

Headache and Neuralgia.
What hosts of people seek for cure of these ailments. And in vain.

Because they are misled by going after medicines which only relieve.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are not a relief for headaches and neuralgia, but they are a thorough cure in the only way these troubles can ever be really cured—by restoring the nervous system.
Mrs. E. Bridgen, 312 East Adams St., Syracuse, N. Y., states: "Until I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I was never free from attacks of distressing neuralgia in cold months and suffered from a draft even in summer time.
Other remedies relieved only, but these Nerve Pills stopped the attacks, due I believe to their building up power."

Neuralgia and nervous headaches are always an indication of exhausted nerves. Make the cure thorough by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, 50 cts. at all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase
